OLE MISS

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI

AS its cover may indicate, the 1967 version of the OLE MISS has thrown its shackles and has determined to depict life at the University in a brighter, more effective way than ever before. Accepting the premise that the most-read part of the book is the opening section, we have made it larger and more colorful than in years past. The "copy" and the black and white pictures are arranged in loose chronological order, each two-page spread being devoted to one general topic. Between each of these narrative spreads is a mural-sized color photograph, either representing some phase of life here or depicting a familiar campus scene. The remainder of the OLE MISS has been laid out and presented along more traditional and familiar lines. We have, however, spruced up things a bit here and there. The reader will note, for example, the two-page spread of the fraternity sweethearts at the beginning of the Greek section.

We have had some hectic days and tight moments at the annual office these past months, but all things considered, it's been an enjoyable year for the staff of the 1967 OLE MISS. We sincerely hope that you enjoy our handiwork.

Whatever the conversation was about, this Ole Miss male has apparently lost his train of thought. His trouble is a malady that frequently besets the stronger sex on campus.

O lord, give us a good pledge class . . . for once!

IN the beginning, the niave little girls gathered their belongings and came from everywhere to Ole Miss to enter sorority rush. Clad in their Sunday-best, they nervously began the hectic week. They worried about what to wear, what to say, and when to say it. All the decorations, parties, and entertainment amazed them, and the confused swirl of mystical Greek letters frightened them. But anxiety prevailed on the other side, too. Every sorority girl has a hometown favorite. Would she get a bid? Would she take it if it were offered? Then came the mixed emotions—the tears and the laughter—of the final hours, and finally the girls had their precious little ribbons.

Orientation Brings Delights to Newcomers

Some of these fools came because they wanted to.

My goodness. Look at all those big handsome boys in front of the grill.

THE period just before, during, and after registration is a time of rest and relaxation for upperclassmen, but for the freshmen these are days of feverish activity and often jolting change. Freshman "haircuts" and cheerleader tryouts are part of the schedule. Formal orientation meetings take up much time—too much time for the little good they do. And amidst the hustle and bustle the newcomer must find some time to pause and reflect on the new environment he finds himself in at the University of Mississippi.

WITH ready heart and willing hands the typical, serious-minded Ole Miss students begins his pursuit each year of academic excellence in the classroom. If only there weren't so many other things to do! Pep rallies, polishing up the Honda, chapter swaps, "grill hours"—everything takes so very much time, and it's all so terribly important! And besides, that report isn't due until Thursday, anyway.

OVERLEAF: In spite of the frills, Ole Miss is above all else an educational institution. This typical classroom shot was taken in the Graduate Auditorium.

Campus Ball

Chancellor Williams, long-time athletic supporter of the Rebels, swaps tales with Charley Conerly.

Memphis and Jackson have beautiful stadiums, but there's no place like home to play a home game. The two games played on campus this year brought with them the pagentry that has always been so much a part of Ole Miss: turkey sandwiches in the Grove, open houses at the fraternity and sorority houses, fun and activity all over the campus. An added attraction at the State game was the ceremony honoring "chunkin" Charlie Conerly, probably the most famous Rebel of them all.

ONE by-product of legalization has been a drying-up of campus parties. For better or worse this has meant that the well-known blowouts of the past have been generally replaced by sedate open houses and teas, and that students spend more time on the road.

ARTIST Series programs and productions of the University Players bring a broad scope of entertainment to Ole Miss students. Dormitory resident strikes a blow for freedom.

ONE of the more challenging aspects of student life is the unique experience of communal living. From the impatient buzz of the date downstairs to the bull sessions in a smoke-filled room, from the quiet of one's desk to the helter-skelter early morning activity in the head, the dorm offers an opportunity for finding friends, exchanging ideas, and planning for the future. Whether anticipating a panty raid, playing cards, or sunning atop Stewart, dorm life is where the action is.

Ole Miss Climate Fosters Dating Game

Some people can get dates . . .

Quit, that tickles.

First promise you'll put my picture in the annual.

WITH a harmonious balance between male and female, and even without the handy roadside park across the highway, Ole Miss offers an agreeable climate for those who play the dating game. The mad rush on freshman girls, the routine of study dates, hurried good night kisses, fraternity serenades, and the general scramble to and from the altar all must be counted with the romantic side of campus life. Memories of Ole Miss are greatly enhanced by the relationships experienced as students share their college days.

LIFE at Ole Miss is not all ball games, concerts, Forum speakers, or parties. Nor is it all study. It is the prosaic duties of just living that probably takes up half of the normal student's time. But everyday living isn't necessarily all dull and drab. Life has its brighter edges—a meal at D.C.'s, a Harry Owens history lecture, or just having your shirts occasionally returned from the University laundry with a few uncrushed buttons.

YAWNING students, bored professors, and bees in the classrooms signal the arrival of the spring equinox at Ole Miss. Outdoors, however, life resumes at a brisk pace: the tennis courts are full again, sun-bathers crowd the top of Stewart Hall; the Hondas zip wildly through the Grove; Sardis Lake beckons irresistably. Soon the baseball stands are jammed with shirtsleeved fans. Before we can realize it, final exams are upon us, and suddenly another year has passed.

Study . . .

A UNIVERSITY is a molding force for its students. That its primary purpose is to educate is evident throughout its many classrooms, laboratories, and studios. Here, in an atmosphere of learning, we begin to know ourselves, to formulate our ideas, and to find purpose for our lives.

. . . contemplation . . .

. . . devotion to learning . . .

. . . research . . .

. . . and application. All this is Ole Miss.

Study and Application Lead to Achievement

College of Liberal Arts Has Wide Program

With a desire to learn . . .

and minds to create . . .

The College of Liberal Arts, founded in 1848 offers degrees in Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Music, or Bachelor of Science by fulfilling certain assigned requirements.

From these degrees majors can be obtained in literature, language, social and natural sciences, design, painting, music, home economics, biology, chemistry, and many others.

The College of Liberal Arts has undergone a systematic development program since September 1952.

Understanding comes more slowly . . .

and wisdom takes longest of all.

The Ole Miss Law School, under the direction of fast-moving Dean Joshua Morse, is recognized as one of the finest in the South. The numerous innovations instituted by the Dean, such as the importation of many Yale Law graduates to teach, and the establishment of a seminar to aid Mississippi Justices of the Peace, have placed the Law School in the spotlight much more often than the other University divisions.

A diploma from the School of Law conferring the Juris Doctorate degree entitles the holder to a license to practice law in any court of the state, without further examination.

School of Engineering Trains Technicians

The School of Engineering offers theoretical and practical training in chemical, civil, electrical, geological, and mechanical engineering.

Courses in civil engineering have been taught at the University since 1854, when a department of engineering was established by the Board of Trustees; the actual founding of the School in 1900 credited the University as having established the first school of engineering in the state.

Carrier Hall, which houses the School today, is one of the most progressive centers of instruction in the University because of the modern facilities for instruction, research, and experimentation plus air-conditioned classrooms, sound-insulated drafting rooms, and well-equipped laboratories.

Educators seek to find better methods of learning.

DR. S. A. MOORHEAD
Dean of the School of Education

The school of Education provides prospective teachers with pre-service and in-service training. The aims of the School of Education are improvement of education programs and facilities, and service in the cultural institutions of the State.

Graduates of the School are qualified for teacher's certificates in the State, and for those interested in teaching in other states, adjustments in the required program will be made to fulfill the specific requirements of the particular state. A Department of Placement is maintained by the School of Education, to inform students of teaching opportunities, salaries, and other information necessary for graduates seeking positions.

The school's program of preparation of elementary and secondary teachers, and school service personnel, as well as requirements for the doctorate degree in education, is approved by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. The School is also a member of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

The School of Medicine Leads in Research

DR. JOHN A. GRONVALL
Dean of the School of Medicine

In 1903 the School of Medicine for the University was created by an act of the Board of Trustee—The School then was located on the Oxford Campus and offered the first two years of the four-year curriculum in medicine. In 1950, the four-year University Medical Center, located in Jackson, was established by the Mississippi State Legislature.

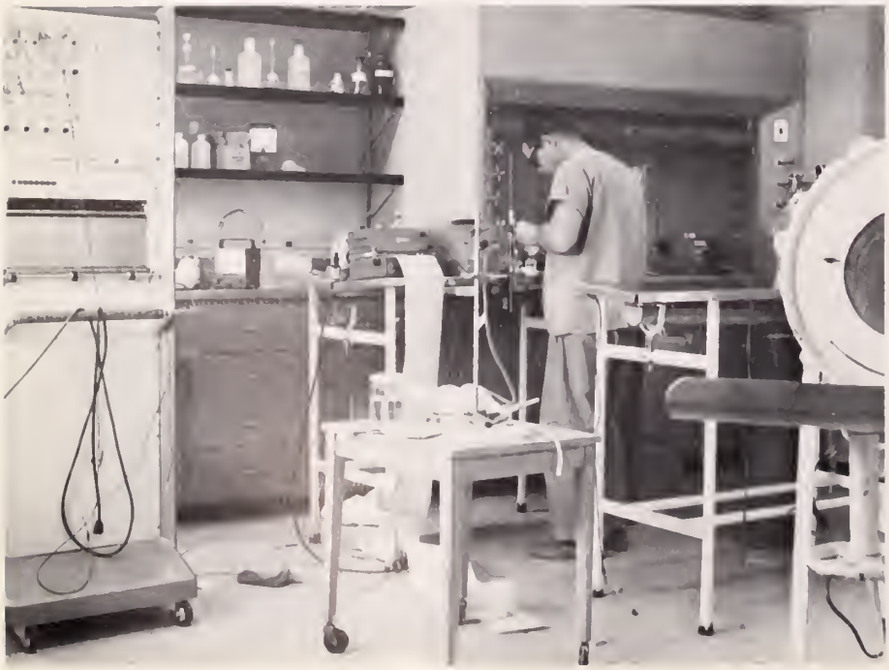

The University Medical Center was completed in the Summer of 1955. The Center houses the University Hospital, the School of Medicine, and the School of Nursing.

The School of Medicine offers the degree of Doctor of Medicine. It also provides instructions for the graduate degrees in the Medical sciences, and training programs in medical technology, x-ray technology, and clinical radioisotope technology.

DR. AUSTIN DODGE
Associate Dean of the School of Pharmacy

Founded in 1908, the School of Pharmacy provides special education and training necessary for the practice of pharmacy in a five-year program.

Graduates, earning the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy, are qualified to assume positions as community, manufacturing, and hospital pharmacists, analysis of pharmaceutical and food products, and professional service representatives for manufacturers of pharmaceutical, chemical and medical products.

In 1961 the School of Pharmacy established the Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences. The institute conducts basic and applied research in the pharmaceutical sciences, and develops natural products of Mississippi for the pharmaceutical industry.

Business School Aids Economic Development

Founded in 1917, the School of Business and Government recognizes the need for properly educated and trained persons in the modern world and seeks to meet this need by providing courses of study leading toward the degrees of Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Public Administration, Bachelor of Science in Commerce and Bachelor of Science in Journalism.

The School of Business and Government is housed in Conner Hall, which provides modern facilities and technological equipment for training in the business and governmental sciences. The School also offers a course of study designed to teach students the basic knowledge they will need for an administrative career in business or government, and to develope their proficiency in the application of such knowledge.

The School of Business and Government is a member of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, which is the national accrediting agency in the field of business education.

DR. BEN B. McNEW
Acting Dean of the School of Business and Government

When confronted with a question, students think.

Our Graduate School creates experts.

A common ambition among graduate students is to teach in college.

DR. LEWIS NOBLES
Dean of Graduate School

Organized in 1927 the University's Graduate School coordinates and administers graduate study and research at the University.

In 1870 courses were first offered at the graduate level to applicants who had attained intellectual distinction, and a comprehensive examination as a requirement for the master's degree was established. In 1890 a definite program of graduate study with a minimum residence requirement of one academic year was inaugurated.

In 1951 the air-conditioned Library building was completed. This Library was designed with special attention to the requirement of graduate study. Carrels for individual use of graduate students. and seminar rooms for graduate classes are provided.

Research is a primary function of the University and a function of special importance to the graduate program. The Graduate School therefore encourages in every way possible faculty and student research.

The Graduate School is a member of the Council of Graduate Schools of the United States and of the conference of Deans of Southern Graduate Schools.

The Graduate School enrolls record number.

These graduate students all share a keen interest in their field whether it be theoretical . . .

Features

The Features Section of the Ole Miss is presented to recognize those students who have excelled in campus leadership and to feature those girls who best exemplify the traditional beauty and personality of an Ole Miss coed. Through their various contributions to the campus they have not only honored themselves but also their school.

The Parade of Beauties and Favorites, held in the Coliseum for the first time, is presented annually by the Ole Miss Yearbook. The Master of Ceremonies for the 1966 Parade, Bill Rutledge of New Albany, presented the Beauty and Favorite candidates and entertainment which was coordinated around the musical Mame.

On the evening of the Parade, the audience selected Ole Miss's ten Favorites from the field of thirty-four girls representing both women's residence halls and sororities. The Beauties were selected by a panel of distinguished judges after a series of interviews the afternoon of the Parade and final presentation that night in the Coliseum.

Activities

Our college careers are enriched through participation in campus activities. We spend many hours each week engaged in some sort of extracurricular interests. Whether it's dramatics, publications work, a service organization, or honorary, we know that the time we put into these activities helps to develop our talents and qualities of leadership, cooperation, and service.

The Elections Commission is a committee composed of seven commissioners which are appointed by the ASB President and approved by the Campus Senate. They, under the leadership of Chairman Gary Sisco, are responsible for all campus elections and are appointed to serve until graduation, resignation, or removal by the campus senate.

The elections held during the year were those concerning the Campus Senate, LSU Class Dismissal Referendum, Homecoming Queen, Miss Ole Miss—Colonel Rebel, ASB officers, publications' editors, cheerleaders, and any other elections that pertain to student government. In addition, the Elections Commission supervises the elections of Favorites and the Senior Class Officers.

Associated Student Body Directs Vital Affairs

Patterned after the guidelines of the Federal Constitution, the Associated Student Body Constitution provides for three branches of student government—the executive, the legislative, and the judicial.

The executive branch is headed by the Associated Student Body President. He is responsible for the judicial execution of the Constitution, ASB Code of Laws, and the general well-being of the students. The various departments of the ASB student government are headed by members of the President's Cabinet.

The legislative branch is headed by the Vice-President of the Associated Student Body. Serving as President of the Senate, he directs the law making body on campus.

The ASB Attorney General directs the activities of the judicial branch. This branch includes a system of lower and upper courts of which the Judicial Council is the highest court and its chairman is an ASB elective position.

Student Activities Committees Direct

As many new students arrive each fall for the beginning of school, they encounter several groups which compose the Student Activities Department.

The Welcoming Committee is in charge of greeting students and showing them the campus. The Homecoming Committee directs decoration contests and halftime activities.

The Department of Social Affairs stages the Welcome Rebel Party and also maintains the Concert Committee, which brings famous entertainers to Ole Miss, such as The Brothers Four and Johnny Cash.

The School Spirit Committee primarily functions during the football season to assist the cheerleaders at pep rallies.

The Chairman's Special Committee is composed of the chairmen of each of the different committees. This group coordinates the various University activities.

Judicial Council Hears Student Cases

The Judicial Council, which came into being in 1951, now hears practically all cases of discipline in which men are involved, and is the final authority in interpreting the ASB Constitution. It also handles appeals from other judicial bodies. The Council consists of an elected chairman and four members appointed by the ASB President.

When a case is heard, the student involved is notified and given an opportunity to present both his side of the case and any circumstances he feels should be considered. He may bring any witnesses. This year students can be assisted by a member of the Judicial Bar. Almost without exception, the recommendations of the Council to the Dean of Student Personnel are followed.

The Council operates on the basis of searching for truth and arriving at decisions which take into account the good of the University and the good of the individual involved.

Campus Senate Legislates Student Ideas

An outstanding feature of the student government at Ole Miss is the Campus Senate. Resolutions and bills brought before the Senate are debated, voted upon, and if passed, then presented to the proper authority for approval. The Senate approves cabinet appointments that the ASB President makes and sponsors ASB elections.

The Vice-President of the student body presides over the Senate meetings. The senators are elected to represent the Greek fraternities, dormitories, districts of married student apartments, and the day students.

Heading the organization are the Executive Council with six popularly elected officers, a Judicial Council with four appointed and two elected members, and a President's Council composed of dormitory and sorority house presidents.

To continue in improving the welfare of the women students, the AWS has initiated its new orientation program for freshmen girls. This plan, put into practice for the first time this year, is the Big-Little Sister Program within each of the girls' dormitories. The AWS has continued to strengthen the structure of the organization and emphasize the advantages offered by the University.

New Heights in Presenting College Life

FRANK DeBAY
Activities Editor

The 1967 OLE MISS has been designed for you, the student, to present an accurate picture of our University. Many new ideas have been incorporated in this year's book to make it more interesting.

The opening section of thirty-two color pages is only one of the new features that we feel the student body will enjoy. Special photography ideas, careful planning, tedious yet original thoughts—these are the efforts of each staff member.

With the help of the University Computer, many sections of the OLE MISS were compiled faster and more accurately, enabling a speedier publication of the yearbook.

During the summer months, the office for the OLE MISS was completely remodeled. The previous two rooms were enlarged and made into four rooms: the Editor's office, Business Manager's office, the staff Work Room, and the photography dark room.

We've tried to better the yearbook in every way and we feel that we've succeeded in producing one of which every Ole Miss student can be proud.

Moot Court Trains Chosen Law Students

The Moot Court Program is designed to give students practical experience in preparing and presenting cases. The program is divided into two segments, appellate and circuit. In the appellate division, second semester law students use actual court records to perfect and present an appeal or to defend the lower court's position.

The circuit case gives the student realistic training in presenting a case to a judge and jury. A student is responsible for rules of procedure and evidence in addition to knowledge of the law and facts involved in his case.

The Moot Court Board is composed of students selected by the Law School faculty on the basis of academic standing. The Board supervises the Moot Court Program, schedules the hearing of cases before attorneys or judges, and helps the participants in preparation of their cases.

Law Journal Staff Prepares Periodical

The Mississippi Law Journal, the official publication of the state bar association, is the fourth largest legal periodical in the nation. Three issues contain articles by prominent legal writers as well as works by student staff members, the final issue being devoted to the proceedings of the state bar association. During the term of the state supreme court, the Journal staff prepares and distributes weekly advance sheets of the most recent Mississippi cases to members of the state bar and judiciary on a subscription basis.

The Law Journal is composed of students and one faculty member. Appointments to the Journal is a high honor since members are selected from the top ten percent of their class. Each staff member contributes one article of current legal interest during his first year and a longer, more scholarly comment his final year.

The spirit of Alpha Sigma Sigma has more than accidental correspondence with the Anglo-Saxon, lower case version of its name. To feel the wrath or the influence of a member is to understand this point. Alpha Sigma Sigma's will not suffer to be tread upon, and when they are, they readily demonstrate membership qualifications.

The status of Alpha Sigma Sigma hit a new bottom this year. Still flushed with past successes, the fat and sassy Alpha Sigma Sigma's began the year with their annual banquet. The featured speaker this year was A Man-of-the-Year Billy Greer, who spoke on journalistic ethics in the modern world.

Alpha Sigma Sigma selects new members each year with the reverse-blackball system. Remember, if your normally equable personality has another, more untoward side, you, too, are eligible for membership.

"Service, Scholarship, and Leadership," is the motto of the 117 chapters of Mortar Board in colleges throughout the nation.

Activities of the society are evidenced by: selling Mortar Board calendars, providing a schedule of the year's activities at Ole Miss; wearing white blazers with the Mortar Board crest to make the campus aware of those girls who have reached the high standard for membership in the organization; co-sponsoring with Omicron Delta Kappa, the ODK-Mortar Board Forum Series, which brings outstanding speakers to the Ole Miss campus; sponsoring special Christmas parties for needy families in the campus district; preparing a "summer reading list," including books suggested by professors on campus, to be sent to high school students who have applied to Ole Miss for the next year.

Phi Eta Sigma was founded at the University of Illinois on March 22, 1923. From this beginning it has grown to over 140 chapters, in both large and small colleges, and membership in Phi Eta Sigma is now recognized as one of the highest honors a male freshman can attain. Beta Chapter of this fraternity was established at Ole Miss in 1930, making the local chapter thirteenth in order of founding.

The society does not perform public service projects; its sole purpose is the recognition of outstanding academic achievement, encompassing all fields of academic pursuit. Phi Eta Sigma encourages people to think, and a banquet is held each year at which a noted speaker attempts to provoke the minds of the members.

Freshmen men are eligible for Phi Eta Sigma if they accumulate a 3.5 over-all grade point at the end of the first or second semester of their first year. There is no other way or time for a person to join Phi Eta Sigma. Being selected for this honorary is a tremendous achievement for a freshman, and this honor is emphasized by his retaining active membership throughout his college career.

Phi Eta Sigma sponsors only two functions during the year: "Freshman Honor Party" held in conjunction with the women of Alpha Lambda Delta, and the previously mentioned initiation and banquet, held in the spring.

The Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Phi Delta Chi was founded at the University of Mississippi in 1927. Two years later, in 1929, the fraternity became inactive and was not reactivated until 1951. Students who are outstanding in the School of Pharmacy may join the pharmaceutical fraternity, Phi Delta Chi. It is a national fraternity which was first established at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1833.

The men in the chapter symbolize the two-fold purpose of the fraternity: brotherhood and hard work. The high ideals of the pharmacy profession have been fostered through their good fellowship and cooperation. The group works together to keep these standards high.

Although books, pills, powders, and labs occupy a great deal of their time, the men also participate in social activities. Phi Delta Chi also performs many services to the School of Pharmacy and its students. The principal project is the bookstore operated for the pharmacy students. This group is composed primarily of members of the Church of Christ. The University Christians came into existence in the spring of 1960, for it was in that year that a center adjacent to the University was acquired.

Since the acquisition of the center, the University Christians have been provided with varied social activities as well as religious instruction and discussion. It also creates lasting friendships, produces strong faith, and prepares students of the University for positions of responsibility in the church. With the support of the Church of Christ, the group hopes to grow stronger this year.

Association of Urban and Community Planners

The association entered its fourth year as an active student organization for graduates with increasing momentum as the planning department took two giant steps forward. The first step was taken when the department achieved independent status within the Graduate School. The second step was the securing of an additional full-time professor having full membership in the American Institute of Planners. These accomplishments made fellowships and grants, denied in the past, available to the City Planning Students.

In keeping with the tempo set by the department, the Association adopted as goals the promotion of the City Planning Program at Ole Miss and the generation of public interest in the field of planning.

This year was highlighted by Municipal Codes Workshop, hosted by the City Planning Department.

The Committee of 100, an organization of students of all faiths which represent all areas of the campus community, sponsors the Religious Emphasis Speakers who are selected by the Planning Committee of the Committee of 100.

The members of the Committee of 100 accept their responsibility in the knowledge that they speak for religion on the campus in bringing to the campus each month a Religious Emphasis Speaker. During their two-day visits, these prominent speakers of different denominations and faiths are heard by students, faculty, and staff at convocations, in classrooms, and in discussion groups in dormitories and in sorority and fraternity houses. The students make all the arrangements for each speaker; they plan his schedule and consider him as their guest during his stay at Ole Miss.

The fine spirit within the Committee of 100 and the seriousness with which students from all areas of the campus accept the responsibility tend to implant within the campus community an awareness of religious activity throughout the year.

Home Economics Club

In creative imaginations at the turn of the century, the idea of application of science to the problems of the home grow into the organized profession of home economics. From its beginning home economics challenged the intellect of the most highly educated women of the day and guided the lowliest toward the application of the knowledge of the day to feeding and clothing the family and managing the household.

Having affiliation with the Mississippi Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association, the University of Mississippi Home Economics Club was organized in 1938. Club meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month. Each year a national theme is carried throughout the college chapters. The 1966 theme will be "Breakthroughs in Meeting Family Needs" with emphasis on different subject matter areas.

Newman Apostolate

The Newman Apostolate at Ole Miss has taken a somewhat new approach to its task this year. Through participation in the United Campus Ministry and in the spirit of Vatican Council II and the Ecumenical Movement, Newman has strived to broaden its scope, as it looks to the new horizons. The maintaining of an office in the "Y" building has afforded both the Catholic and the non-Catholic students greater availability to the truths and teachings of the Catholic Church.

Newman, the church on campus, affords opportunity and satisfaction which must primarily be sought by the student before it can be attained.

All students, faculty, and staff are welcomed as a part of Newman, which has none of the barriers that might arise because of the difference in creed, color, culture, or country.

The Wesley Foundation is a fellowship of persons seeking to become responsible, faithful people of God. Through providing opportunity for worship, study, fellowship, and service, Wesley becomes the church on campus.

By providing many informal opportunities for students to experience the central act of the Christian faith, Wesley provides worship.

By adding theology to the student's curriculum, Wesley realizes that the vocation of the student is study.

Because Wesley provides opportunities for real fellowship, each student realizes that one must be in relation to other people to have a meaningful life.

Wesley provides opportunities for students to act as well as talk, for action must be an integral part of the Christian faith. Students are always encouraged to participate in many service outlets provided by campus life.

Westminster Fellowship

Westminster Fellowship is a student organization related to the Presbyterian Church. In theory Westminster Fellowship is comprised of all Presbyterian students at the University. In reality a core of the corps supports the organization. Striving to be more than a Sunday evening supper club, Westminster Fellowship is concerned with the church as a mission. Weekday functions include luncheon meetings, grill sessions, and a weekly Bible study on campus. Organized to serve the campus community, Westminster publishes a newspaper, sponsors conferences, and by personal involvement proclaims the Lordship of Jesus Christ to the world. Westminster Fellowship is also involved in the ecumenical movement on campus, the United Christian Fellowship, which seeks cooperation without compromise within the church.

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at the University of Mississippi in June of 1946 for the purpose of training carefully selected young men for commissions as Ensigns in the United States Navy or as Second Lieutenants in the United States Marine Corps.

The Department of the Navy pays for four full years of college for those who are enrolled as Regular students in the program. A student may become a Regular by passing nation-wide competitive examinations, both physical and mental.

Ole Miss is proud to be one of fifty-two colleges and universities who have this program.

Athletics

At Ole Miss athletics is probably the most exciting, most talked about, and most vital phase of campus life. The Rebels are always contenders in every sport and the winning attitude carries over with all Ole Miss Alumni. Our first class athletic program is one to be proud of and has brought much credit to the University.

JOHN VAUGHT
Head Coach

One of the oldest and finest traditions at Ole Miss is the fine staff of coaches that direct the first class athletic program. Since most of the coaches graduated and played as Rebels they are naturally inebriated with Ole Miss spirit and of course the players are taught the same winning tradition. Heading the coaching staff is the "Ole Possum" Johnny Vaught who has a 19 year record of 157 victories 43 defeats and 10 ties. The colorful Rebels went to their Thirteenth straight post-season bowl game under Vaught in 1966.

Head Coach Vaught has many experienced and talented assistants to call on in molding the finest athletes in the South into great teams. They are Frank Bruiser Kinard, offensive line coach, UM, 1938; John Cain, offensive backfield coach, Alabama, 1933; Jim Buster Poole, defensive line coach, UM, 1937; Junie Hovious, defensive backfield and golf coach, UM, 1942; Wobble Davidson, freshman coach, UM, 1942; Ray Poole, assistant, UM, 1947; Roland Dale, end coach, UM 1950; Eddie Crawford, assistant football and Head Basketball coach, UM, 1957; Billy Mustin, assistant coach, UM, 1950; Tom Swayze, Chief recruiter and Head Baseball coach, UM, 1933; Wesley Doc Knight, trainer and track coach, Spring field, 1935. Billy Sanders, equipment manager, also graduated from Ole Miss.

With an increasingly better-rounded program of athletics Ole Miss is heading for the top in Intercollegiate competition.

Great Comeback for '66 Rebs: 8-2,

In the words of the Ole Possum, Coach John Vaught, the 1966 edition of Ole Miss football teams experienced, "the finest comeback of any team I've ever had." Those words coming from a man who has coached many a fine team are fitting to a team that not only bounced back from 1966 setbacks, but who also erased the bad taste from the mouths of the fans who remember two previous mediocre seasons.

With a schedule regarded as one of the toughest in the nation an 8 win and 2 loss record speaks for itself. Playing in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Texas is certainly in keeping with a ten year tradition of consecutive bowl games. The Ole Miss football dynasty may become a reality again.

Vaught also gives the 1966 Rebels credit for having strong leadership from the seniors. Spirit is such an important element in winning that this feeling of living up to a good senior example definitely helped Ole Miss. Even through the losses to Lucky Alabama and Georgia, Miller Hall retained a unity that was felt all over campus. Credit must be given to these graduating seniors who sought team recognition instead of individual glory.

Coach Vaught will definitely feel the loss of Doug Cunningham, Chuck Hinton, Chuck Norman, Brent Caston, Lee Garner, Tommy Luke, Gerald Warfield, James Shows, Ronnie Fowler, Rocky Fleming, Marvin McQueen and Steve Terracin.

The Mighty Rebel Rush

Rebs Whip Memphis State 13-0 in Opener

Under beautiful skies in perfect weather a capacity crowd in Memphis witnessed a rather dull game and a Chuck Norman punting exhibition. Although the Ole Miss defense, lead by the "Fearsome Fivesome" of Keyes, Urbanek, Sartin, McQueen, and Richardson held the Spook Murphy Tigers scoreless, the Rebel offense could only score one touchdown. Jody Graves added the TD in the first half and Jimmy Keyes completed the scoring with field goals of 28 and 33 yards.

With one of the toughest schedules in the country, Coach John Vaught chose to bring the team along slowly for its next three tough games. Two junior quarterbacks, Bruce Newell and Jody Graves, were used by Vaught but the Rebels stuck mostly to the ground.

Bobby Wade was the leading rusher with 111 yards in 21 carries. Split-end Rocky Fleming caught six passes for 41 yards.

Graves turns corner after gaining yardage.

End Mac Haik catches a long one.

Street heads for paydirt.

The scene was Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson. Two long years ago the Rebels were knocked out of Number One by the Kentucky Wildcats. After two equally mediocre and miserable seasons the Mighty Rebels gained revenge. It was a sweet victory for the many that remember.

A new twist was added to the offense that very surely added a needed spark. Although still shuttling quarterbacks, Vaught put Doug Cunningham at tailback and moved Rocky Fleming to wingback. Mac Haik moved into the split end spot and responded with three catches for 69 yards.

The defense aided by key interceptions again recorded a shutout.

Wade hunts for teammates.

Bear-coached teams have a way of getting at you that no one else's team has. In what was definitely the biggest Southeastern Conference game of the year, The Bear used a snake and the annual pass interference call to trick the Rebels into defeat. The Snake is called Ken Stabler and the southpaw quarterback completed a phenomenal 16 out of 19 passes to harass the Rebel deepbacks.

The Tide defense added to the big Alabama win by catching the first two Graves passes and intercepting two others. The Rebels finally got rolling in the fourth period under Bruce Newell who completed 12 passes for 87 yards. Consistent Bobby Wade piled up 93 yards in fifteen carries.

Ole Miss Fails to Score Touchdown.

Georgia 9 Ole Miss 3

With both quarterbacks failing to bring Ole Miss a touchdown while being held to only 142 total yards, the Georgia game must be labeled an offensive failure. Five Ole Miss passes were picked off by the alert Bulldogs in the Georgia secondary.

In the opening minutes Rebel defensive end Marvin McQueen recovered a Georgia fumble that set up a 21 yard field goal by Keyes. Georgia scored in the next quarter in the rare manner of driving the ball at the Ole Miss defense with successful runs by Ronnie Jenkins and Lenny Snow. A safety by Georgia finished the scoring.

In the final period Ole Miss had many opportunities to score but failed to drive. At the Georgia 30, Graves lost twenty yards in three plays and the Rebels made the long trip back to Oxford with a 2-2 record.

Loose ball in Athens.

Its hard to say enough about what Doug Cunningham did on one punt return. In Billy Cannon form the fired-up Senior from Louisville failed to give up and quit. He brought the Rebels from behind, Mississippi Southern to their knees and a thankful Homecoming crowd to their feet in about six seconds.

Three minutes later he had scored again and, by George, the Rebels were headed somewhere. Defensively Ole Miss was tremendous in allowing Southern to gain only 97 yards. Bruce Newell, Meridian junior, established himself firmly as The Quarterback by leading the Rebs on a 54 yard drive that included a sneaky pass to tight end Steve Terracin that set up the winning touchdown.

A bad snap on a punt had caused the Rebels to go behind in the first quarter. We were lucky to win that one.

Things are looking bad for the home team.

The Rebels finally hit the jackpot against the highly regarded explosive offense of the Houston Cougars. Newell hit on the Rebels' first touchdown pass of the year and the 27 point total was the best of the season for the offense. Ole Miss remained undefeated in Memphis Memorial Stadium through five games.

The defensive secondary had a field day against Houston's quarterbacks by taking a record number of seven passes away from Warren McVea and other Houston speedsters. Gerald Warfield lead the assault with three interceptions in his bid for All-SEC safety.

Bruce Newell had his finest day in completing 7 of 13 passes for 118 yards and including a long bomb to Rocky Fleming. Cunningham, Wade, and Keyes also scored for Ole Miss.

Houston Stoned by Rolling Rebels 27-6

The screaming Cajuns in Tiger Stadium were quiet as the Mighty Rebels took to the air and conquered LSU behind the cheers of Rebel rooters fresh from a Friday night pep rally at Pat O'Briens. The Rebs looked like the teams of old as they consistently came up with the big play on offense and also held the powerful running attack of the Bengal Tigers.

Newell continued to lead the Rebels to victory by dropping two bombs for touchdowns. In the first quarter, Bobby Wade gathered in a swing pass and danced 75 yards through the bayou behind the blocking of Rocky Fleming. Hank Shows also caught a Newell TD pass in the final quarter. The lanky junior hit on 7 of 10 passes for 116 yards.

Monk prepares to smash the Vols

The victory over the nationally ranked and highly regarded team of Tennessee must be called the greatest win of the 1966 season. Clutch plays and a few breaks were all the Rebels needed to assure themselves of a very respectable place in the minds of Ole Miss fans.

Tennessee completely dominated the game in statistics but the cool pressure play of the Rebels paid off where it counts . . . on the scoreboard. Late in the first half the Rebels started a drive that was capped off by a 25 yard Newell to Bill Matthews pass.

A fine pass rush and alert secondary play kept the Warren-Fulton-Denney threat from crossing our goal line until the last minute of play. In the meantime, end Jerry Richardson had put the game on ice with a runback of a Dewey Warren fumble caused by Bobo Uzzle. The 1966 Rebels were heading for Bluebonnet Country.

A wet pigskin pass from Newell.

The rains came and the crowd was a meager ten thousand in Jackson but the Vaught-coached players did not allow the weather to dampen their spirits. Scoring a season high total of points, Ole Miss recorded another shutout, Newell hit on touchdown passes and the Wade and Cunningham combination battered the Vandy line for many runs of considerable yardage.

The one-sided victory for UM added more statistical prestige to their fine record and a comeback of five straight victories. The hapless Commodores failed to find smooth sailing among the muddy waters of the Mississippi Memorial Stadium. Vanderbilt was strictly outclassed by a pro type defense and an offense of new found potency. Mississippi State had better come to Oxford with some tanks to run on the Rebels.

Vanderbilt Crushed by Bowl Bound Rebs 34-0

On an overcast day on November 23, thirty thousand people turned out at Hemingway Stockyard for the relentless slaughter of 11 Starkville Cows. Paul Davis' charges were pitiful as the Rebels whipped the Bulldogs. The nation's second best defense only gave up two yards rushing and forty yards passing to the Maroons.

In the productive afternoon of fun and football, the Rebels rolled up 341 total yards and actually took it easy on the Rednecks. Scores were recorded by Cunningham on a 13 yard run, a 26 yard pass from Newell to Matthews, a field goal by Keyes, and a 15 yard smashing runback of an intercepted pass by Giant Jim Urbanek. The loss of Dan Sartin with a broken foot was the only mishap of the day.

An 8 and 2 record looks mighty good compared to the poor 2-8 of Starkville Cow College. Catch us if you can, Texas.

Texas 19 Ole Miss 0 in Bluebonnet Bowl

Sideline encouragement . . . Didn't work.

December 17, 1966 will live in the painful memories of Rebel fans old and young as a bitter, gnawing recollection of a humiliating defeat. To Rebels, defeat is never sweet, but this day witnessed a very unusual defeat for the mighty Mississippi Team. Ole Miss got physically whipped by a full speed, all-well Texas Longhorn bunch. With Super-sophomores like Bill Bradley who scampered around end untouched for Coach Royal's first score and Chris Gilbert who ran for 100 plus yards including a 57 yard dash right down our throats, Texas managed to control the game.

The Defense did give the Rebels possession of the football four times through interceptions by Tommy Luke (3) and Bruce Dillingham, but the offense just couldn't come through. It looked like the Longhorns were just a little more anxious to win than Vaught's Rebels.

1966 Ole Miss Freshman Football Team

Bo Bowen takes pass against Bama.

The 1966 Freshmen played a four game schedule against SEC opponents and met some serious competition in suffering three defeats. The Baby Rebels must have been weary from scrimmaging the varsity as they were whipped by Alabama's Red Wave 33 to 7 in the only campus experience. The powerful Baby Bengals of LSU rolled to a Tiger Stadium victory of 31 to 7. The Frosh managed to beat Vanderbilt 13 to 7. In the annual grudge match against the "Pinknecks" of Mississippi State, the Baby Rebels got scalped in losing 28 to 12.

Although many people rated the potential of the Rebel Freshmen higher than the season record, the team showed promise through several excellent individual showings, a fine team spirit, and a determination to help the varsity in many ways. The future looks strong for the Rebels.

Rebel Basketball Team Shocks South

Larry Martindale moves down court.

Basketball came of age at the University of Mississippi in 1966 and 1967. Playing the hardest schedule in it's history, Ole Miss finished with a 13 win 12 game loss record. Considering the past record and past opponents it really is a little out of sight. The high-spirited, sophomore-studded group of athletes played exciting, hard basketball against the best teams in the South and came out with a 7 win and 11 loss record against SEC opponents. Although many mistakes were made in the primary season for the bulk of the squad, the Rebels showed much determination and will-to-win despite mistakes. Coming through in the clutch games and when the pressure was on became a common strategy for the team.

With a contending team, a colossal Coliseum and a competitive schedule the interest in basketball skyrocketed on campus and alumni began to attend more regularly. The spontaneous mushrooming of this great sport at the University has done nothing but good for the athletic program at Ole Miss.

The sweetest wins in this season came at the hands of nationally ranked Tennessee and a double win over Mississippi State by one point each time. A spark of revenge was lit in beating Texas, Alabama, and Georgia to atone for football losses. LSU was a double victim and the Rebels fell twice to Florida, Auburn, and Vanderbilt in double overtime, while splitting with the rest of the conference and losing only to Southern Mississippi outside the SEC.

The emergence of the basketball team really gives the sports program at the University of Mississippi a needed shot in the arm. The Rebel Basketball potential is unlimited and the winning attitude that now prevails year round on campus will certainly improve our athletic prestige and enable the whole University to benefit.

The Rebel starting basketball team was the youngest in the Southeastern Conference with four sophomores and a junior getting the regular opening assignments. Two 6-8 centers, Jerry Brawner and Rod Chamblee headed the pivot position with Brawner emerging as the big gun in scoring and rebounding. Dale Stevens, 6-6, and Ken Turner added a perfect match of height, scoring ability and range at the forwards with replacements Charlie Jordan and Chuck Burhorn, the lone senior player. Coach Crawford used the hot redhead Eddie Miller and steady junior leader Larry Martindale to supply clutch points and bring the ball in to boot. Their main replacements were Ronnie Aldy and Freddie Sester.

The strategy of building a basketball contender simultaneously with a $2 million dollar Coliseum has paid off handsomely for Head Basketball Coach Eddie Crawford and Athletic Director Tad Smith. In the first Round Robin SEC schedule the presence of the Rebels was very much felt. The future looks unlimited for a fine team and for a fine coach.

After recruiting a spicy mixture of Yankee and Rebel prospects in both 1965 and 1966, Coach Crawford has seen these boys play together, live, eat, sleep basketball and bring a heck of a lot of life to the campus. In every activity of campus life, ROTC drill, Grilling It, going to class or just hanging around, the Rebel Basketball players are proving that the team that stays together WINS!

Basketball Freshmen show Future Promise

After six grueling weeks of fundamentals and blisters, the 1966-67 Baby Rebel basketball team battled and clashed with other freshmen, junior college, and small college teams. After recovering from Pre-Christmas injuries and jelling into a team, the frosh compiled a fine 16 win and 7 loss record. A double win over Mississippi State, a chance to collide with the phenomenal Baby Bengal LSU freshmen before 9,000 hostile Cajuns who thinned out before the varsity arrived, and the opportunity to play for an interested full-time freshman coach made it a very memorable season for the future Rebels.

The starters for Coach Jan Bennett's team include: Ron Coleman, guard and high scorer, Tom Butler, center, forwards Lock Ross, Bill Hammack and Gary Brockman, and guards Cecil Jones and Charles Ward.

1966 Baseball Team is Strong Division

You forgot to touch third!

The 1966 Ole Miss Baseball Team bounced back from last year's losing season and shattered many individual records while playing in the longest regular season campaign in Rebel history. In the 32 game schedule, Coach Tom Swayze's appleknockers played exciting baseball while figuring prominently in the race for the SEC Western Division Championship. At the close of the season the Rebels found themselves just a wild pitch away from being on top of the first-place Rednecks.

The overall record was 18-14 with 10 wins and 6 losses in Western Division play. The Rebels kept in contention up until the last series with Mississippi State but dropped seven one-run games that broke their backs. At home the Rebs were only beaten once. That win by the State manurepushers meant the pennant.

Ole Miss only lost one series and that one in the early part of the season. In a southwest swing

Swayze's mentors met the powerhouse of Florida State and lost four straight. In championship play Ole Miss broke even (2-2) with Alabama and Mississippi State, while beating Tulane and LSU 3-1. Other Rebel victims were Memphis State, Delta State, Mississippi Southern, and Nichols State.

Several Ole Miss players enjoyed record-breaking seasons with noteworthy hitting and pitching performances. Leading the Rebel pitchers was big Scotty Hasler who had a 7-1 record and a brilliant 1.50 earned run average. Other hard-working Rebel hurlers were sophomores Eric Ayer (3-3) and Butch Lambert (1-1) and Chip Stewart (2-0). Senior Russ Johnson closed out his college career (12-4) with a season-ending no-hit victory over Mississippi State.

The 1966 Rebels were not lacking in punch either. All-SEC shortstop Jimmy Yawn broke several team records while batting a white-hot .409.

A Meridian-born fivesome plus one Illinois Yankee put Ole Miss on the golfing map in 1966. Teeing off in hard-driving form the Rebel gunners shocked mighty LSU by charging home to victory in the prestigous Buckhaults Invitational in Mobile. Another tournament victory was added at the Mississippi Intercollegiate Championship. Sophomore Jimmy Gamlin and Johnny Dement, both of Meridian, tied for medalist honors with Gamblin winning the playoff. Don Fruge was co-medalist in the Mobile tournament. Chuck Rea, Meridian sophomore, set the University course record with a sizzling 69.

The Rebels finished second in the Tiger Invitational at Baton Rouge, added a ninth place at the Southern Invitational, and closed with a slumping sixth in the SEC. The 1966 UM golf team was certainly one of the finest in school history and the 6-2-1 record will be hard to beat.

Although a 4-9 finish does not look like much of a record, there were bright spots in the 1966 tennis picture. The record was better than several of the preceding years. Victories over Millsaps, Mississippi College, and Southwestern of Memphis were Rebel highlights. This is quite a record in itself, but the sturdy netmen also fought to second place finish in the Southern Mississippi Invitational. The Rebels finished fourth in the Mississippi Intercollegiate tournament and played in the SEC championship.

Although the team did not fare so well, some of the players did have winning individual records. Brad Hovious of Oxford (12-8) and Mike Baier of Meridian (15-5) were the bright spots of the team. The sophomore-junior twosome also combined for a 12-8 doubles record. The close of the 1966 season found Coach John Cain searching for some support for the double-barrel threat of Baier and Hovious.

Ole Miss Track Team

Brad Farber in fine form.

The 1966 varsity track team did not win any major (or minor!) track meets, or overwhelm its opponents with team prowess, but the Rebels did advance in other ways. Coach Wes (Doc) Knight coached the Rebels who entered more meets than ever before. Several individuals achieved success throughout the year. Injuries plagued the varsity but in the LSU meet Pat Parker, Chuck Burhorn, and the 440 relay team won places.

The freshman team deserves special recognition, for these Rebels consistently won or placed in their events. Brad Farber, Murrah graduate, won the 440 at LSU and placed fourth in the SEC. Other outstanding freshmen were Jim Miller, high jumper, and sprinter Jim Rose. The success of the freshmen team is an indication of a new emphasis on track at Ole Miss.

The M Club is a group of men who have earned a letter in an intercollegiate sport and have lived through the initiation. The purpose of the club is the promotion of interest and participation in sports. Through the fine example of the members of the M Club, a great deal of respect has been gained for the athletic participants at Ole Miss. Instead of being Redneck Meats that predominate at many other athletically-minded schools the well-bred Ole Miss athletes of the M Club are an integral part of the University and a point that Rebels can be proud of.

Ole Miss Band and Rebelettes lead the Rebels

The 1966-67 Ole Miss Rebel Band, under the leadership of James Ferguson and Ronald Thielman, participated in eight football games, numerous pep rallies, parades, and the annual Welcome Rebel Party. Led by the world famous Rebelettes, the Band boosted the fame of the Rebels and the whole University with fine halftime performances and never dying Rebel spirit.

Band members (as well as the audiences) enjoyed the Rebelettes' interpretation of "Spanish Flea" plus an off the cuff version of "Land of 1000 Dances." Being a member of the Ole Miss Band involved hard work, but with the work came its rewards, for this year's Band celebrated the Rebel's victory over LSU with a weekend in New Orleans and flew into Houston to support the Rebels in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Texas.

Intramural Council Directs Fraternity Sports

1966-1967 Officers

The Fraternity Intramural Council plans and directs all the intramural athletic activities in which the social fraternities compete. The Council operates a point system to determine the league, sport, and overall champion for the year. Scheduling, determining eligibility, rule interpretation and compiling results are duties of the sixteen Council members.

During the fall the hotly contested games of touch football begin the race for the Intramural Trophy. Basketball, bowling, volleyball, golf, tennis, softball, and ping-pong round out the rest of the Greek sports. Every year the competition is keen between rival fraternities vying to win the trophy. Phi Delta Theta fraternity triumphed in last year's competition and kept a two year hold on the football championship.

Rebel All-Stars

On any athletic team there are always standouts whose play excells above the caliber of the other members of the team. The University of Mississippi has had a long tradition of athletes who have been of such a high quality that they have been recognized as the best in the conference or the nation. 1966-1967 has been no exception in producing a fine group of All-Stars, To the true fan of the Rebels it is a shame to recognize the few who have been most instrumental in bringing national renown to the athletic teams of the University without also giving credit to the supporting cast.

Among the persons who have helped Ole Miss produce All-Americans are the coaches, of course. Backing them up has been a truly first class athletic department that coordinates finances, publicity, scheduling, ticket sales, equipment, and the thousands of details that are involved in fielding athletes in intercollegiate competition. The student body led by the cheerleaders also adds a tremendous amount of incentive to the other factors that make someone a very good or even great player.

All-Stars are very special people at Ole Miss and their names will now be added to such past greats as Mike Dennis, Jim Dunnaway, Glynn Griffin, Jake Gibbs, Charlie Conerly, The Poole Brothers, Bruiser Kinard, Donnie Kessinger, Joe Gibbon and others who have stood out in the field of athletic competition.

Greeks

An opportunity to beautify, enhance, and cultivate one's college life lies in the Greek System. Indelible memories of those anxious moments during rush, frustrating pledge duties, the nervous excitement of becoming an active—those occasions which assure all efforts were worthwhile. Cherished secrets and identical pins secures the bond of genuine friendship among those who claim the same brotherhood.

Panhellenic Council

To promote inter-sorority cooperation, the members of the ten sororities at the University of Mississippi have organized a group known as the Panhellenic Council. Its main purpose is to promote understanding and cooperation among the members of the sororities and to regulate and enforce all rushing rules.

Always working for the good of the University, Panhellenic strives to promote fine intellectual achievement and scholarship, to maintain high social standards, and to promote worthy projects on and off the campus.

Two representatives from each sorority plus the president of each sorority meet with the Panhellenic Executive Board and the Panhellenic Advisors to form the Council. The officers of the council are selected on a rotation basis with each sorority having an officer at regular intervals.

The oldest secret society for college women, Alpha Delta Pi was founded on May 15, 1851, at Wesleyan Female College in Macon, Georgia, the oldest women's college in the world. Delta Sigma Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi received its charter at the University of Mississippi on February 25, 1961.

ADPi's at Ole Miss participate each year in a national Philanthropic Project which contributes to the Cripple Children's Fund and to the Heart Fund.

The members of Delta Sigma Chapter are active in many phases of campus life. The chapter counted among its many honors in 1965-1966 a second place rating in scholarship, several members of CWENS, Miss University, and Pharmacy Queen.

The sorority colors azure blue and white, and the violet, its flower, are an aspiration to the members to live up to the ideals stressed by the founders of the sorority. Active members of Alpha Delta Pi proudly wear a diamond-shaped badge which bears clasped hands, the symbol of the ADPi motto, "We live for each other."

During the Christmas holidays of 1873 at Oxford's Lewis School for Girls, three young pupils formed their own society. With the golden anchor as its emblem, the once-small sisterhood has grown to an international fraternity based upon these same ideals of friendship and loyalty upon which it was founded.

The Delta Gamma's are active in campus activities as they stress scholarship, leadership, and active participation in all facets of university life. Joan didn't catch on, but she laughed anyway.

The founding of Kappa Delta at Longwood College in 1897 is accredited to four young girls who had dreams of a sorority which would unite all college women everywhere under the bonds of sisterhood, scholarship, social interest, and service.

The founders would have been pleased with Alpha Mu Chapter, for KD's are extremely active on the Ole Miss campus. They boost Freshman Cheerleader and Homecoming Maid Zetta Bryant. Other KD's in the Homecoming Court were maids Madalyn Cunningham, Carolyn Chandler, and Judy Colvin. Sharon Pipkin and Zetta Bryant were chosen favorites in the annual Parade of Beauties and Favorites.

Social Activities are numerous in the colonial chapter house. The KD's have date suppers, fraternity swaps, and holiday parties. However, the most important social activities are the Spring Formal, Founders' Day Banquet, and the White Rose Banquet. The KD's also do extensive philanthropic service, such as having a Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

Delta Rho Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was established at Ole Miss in 1947 and began immediately to uphold the tradition of excellence which the national fraternity has represented since its founding at Monmouth College in 1870.

Nancy Clo Evans and Barbara Jordan enjoy a free afternoon at the Pi Phi house.

One hundred years ago twelve coeds at Monmouth College decided that they wanted to form a national organization for women because they had seen what the men students were gaining from their fraternities. On April 28, 1867, they founded I. C. Sorosis, the first national fraternity for women. The Greek letters, Pi Beta Phi were used as a secret motto, but in 1888, the younger members persuaded the older ones to use this as their name.

Pi Phi's participate in many campus activities such as WRA, University Dancers, and the Committee of 100. They are proud of their members who are in Phi Gamma Nu, Epsilon Gamma Epsilon, and Alpha Lambda Delta, a scholastic organization for women. Janie Gitter was chosen as a member of SWENS and Marianne Henson was selected as a freshman representative of the Judicial Council. This year, Georgianna Alexander was selected as a dorm officer, Cindy Morrison was a Navy ROTC Battalion Commander, and Judy Ray was Panhellenic Treasurer.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The organization designed to regulate and govern the activities of all social fraternities on the University campus is the Inter-Fraternity Council. The primary function of the IFC is to serve as a governing body of the sixteen fraternities. It is composed of two representatives chosen from each fraternity and is governed by four officers elected from the membership of the council itself. The council meets bi-monthly to discuss the mutual problems of the fraternity system. Another duty of the council is carried out each year in the planning, setting up, and enforcing of rules for fraternity rush.

Throughout the coordination of activities, the IFC attempts to unite the fraternities in a spirit of friendly brotherhood, to promote scholarship, to encourage new fraternities and to develop existing chapters and individuals in the fraternity system.

Fraternities offer a wide variety of exciting moments.

Alpha Tau Omega is one of the oldest and largest fraternities. It was founded by three Confederate Veterans in 1865 and now has 124 chapters from coast to coast and over 90,000 initiates. Spirit and enthusiasm are shown by members participating in many campus activities, such as student government, military organizations, religious, and honorary groups.

The ATO's are proud of their work on campus. They originated Help Week in 1950 in which the fraternity challenges "Hell Week" activities by substituting community service projects. The ATO's entertain annually with their Spring formal which is their main social event each year. They also sponsor numerous swaps, teas, and other events.

Through the years, the Delta Psi Chapter at ATO has grown in size and prestige and has added much to both the State and the Ole Miss campus.

Since its founding in 1839 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, Beta Theta Pi has been a leader academically and socially. The year 1966 exemplified the growth and achievement of Beta Beta Chapter and showed its position as a leader in the fraternity system at Ole Miss.

Three Beta graduates received international scholarships, including two Fulbright Fellowships and a Marshall Scholarship—one of only twenty-four awarded in the country. For the fourth consecutive year, Beta Theta Pi received a coveted Summa Cum Laude Award from the National Interfraternity Conference for ranking academically in the top ten of all fraternity chapters in the nation.

Beta social events include Homecoming and Protest parties, a Wild West Party, and the Spring Formal. Always at the top in campus leadership, BETA claimed seven members of ODK. Cy Faneca served as a third-term officer of Alpha Sigma Sigma, Linn Murphree was on the ASB Cabinet as Director of Academic Affairs, and Jimmy Currie served as President of Phi Eta Sigma.

Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon started a tradition of great social fraternities by becoming the first at Ole Miss on April 14, 1850. Chi was the seventh Deke Chapter in the land following its founding at Yale in 1844.

The Dekes have helped mold the University and its way of life since the very beginning. Henry Minor Frasier founded the Ole Miss School of Pharmacy and William Benjamin Lowry captained the University Greys in the Civil War. Other prominent Dekes of this chapter and across the country include the late John W. Kyle, Mississippi State Supreme Justice; and Theodore Roosevelt and Rutherford B. Hayes, Presidents of the United States.

The Dekes pride themselves in leading the campus in many fields. They can boost such leaders as Bill McGehee, Treasurer of the IFC; Ted Triplett, varsity cheerleader; Roger Nunley, National President of Phi Beta Lambda; and Greg Dorian, President of the IMC.

The Dekes are known on this campus for having some of the best parties and this reputation is zealously maintained each year.

The remains of Delta Psi.

Phi Chapter of Delta Psi was established at Ole Miss in 1855, eight years after the national fraternity was founded at Columbia University.

In its one hundred and twelve tradition-filled years at Ole Miss, Delta Psi, or St. Anthony Hall as it is sometimes known, has contributed much to both the state and the University. Judge William Hemmingway, compiler of the Hemmingway Code and first captain of the Rebel football team, was a Delta Psi. Other illustrious alumni include Judge Garland Lyell, first editor of the OLE MISS; and the late Walter Sillers, Speaker of the House.

St. Anthony Hall, which built the first fraterntiy house in Mississippi and lost its second house by fire last year, is presently in the process of constructing a third new hall.

One of the last of the old line ivy league fraternities, Delta Psi retains traditional secrecy, high scholastic achievement, and nameless leaders.

Kappa Alpha Order was born on December 7, 1865, at Washington and Lee University and was developed under the watchful eye of General Robert E. Lee, whose gracious and knightly life is enshrined forever in the customs of Kappa Alpha.

Being on the University of Mississippi campus since January 12, 1900. Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha has provided Ole Miss with outstanding, capable leaders. Typical of this outstanding leadership is: Van Lackey, Chairman of the University Development Committee; Richard Noble, President of the Cardinal Club; and former ASB President Jim Martin, who is now Vice President of ODK and President of the Freshman Law School Class. While maintaining outstanding leadership on the campus, KA also excells in its social life as well. Indicative of KA's outstanding social affairs are the Hayseed Party, Old South Weekend, and the Rose Ball.

The brothers of KA are easily distinguished by their Knightly attributes, typical of the Southern Gentleman.

Work duty is an essential part of Kappa Sig pledge training.

The spirit of Kappa Sigma developed within a secret society which existed in Italy and France during the year 1400 and spread to the Western hemisphere shortly after the Civil War in 1869. This traditional spirit of Kappa Sigma was initiated on the Ole Miss campus on October 8, 1926 by the Delta Xi Chapter.

Kappa Sigma has been important in every phase of University life. They have participated in such events as "Operation Brotherhood" in which they, along with the Chi Omega sorority, work together to perform some public service. The annual Oxford Christmas Parade is another way in which the Kappa Sigs express their interest in the Oxford Community.

The fraternity is also justly proud of its reputation for having outstanding parties. These include theme parties, a Homecoming dance, a Christmas formal, and the Stardust Ball in the Spring.

Kappa Sigma's importance is partly shown by the quality of its alumni. Delta Xi Chapter has endowed the state and nation with Rhodes Scholars, a governor, and outstanding business and professional men. Perhaps the most famous Kappa Sigma was Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

Oh, for the days of mint julips, slaves, and dogs.

Since its arrival on the Ole Miss Campus in 1877, Phi Delta Theta has come to mean friendship, learning, and integrity. Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was the birthplace of this international fraternity which began in 1848.

Mississippi Alpha has produced leaders in every field of endeavor. Among these honors are Randy Poole, Treasurer of ASB; Larry Dudley, President of Delta Sigma Pi; and Don Barrett, Editor of the OLE MISS.

The Phi Delta Theta's also claim the 1966 Intramural Football Championship and the best rush booklet on campus.

Phi brothers also find time for a full social life and entertain frequently with such events as the Ivy League Weekend, "Moneymaker" parties, and their annual Blue and White Formal, which is held in the Spring.

The Phis of Ole Miss earnestly strive to live up to the ideals upon which the chapter is based—friendship, learning, and integrity.

The Phi Psi's spruce up their house for homecoming.

From its founding in 1852 at Jefferson College in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, Phi Kappa Psi has grown to a national organization of over 75 chapters all over America. Mississippi Alpha this year is celebrating its 110th year on the Ole Miss campus, having been founded her in 1857.

Phi Kappa Psi stresses the overall development of its members in scholarship, campus leadership, social life and athletics. Members of Mississippi Alpha are found in places of leadership in ODK, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Eta Sigma, IFC, Intramural Council, Alpha Epsilon Delta, SAM, Pi Sigma Epsilon, and many other campus organizations. Phi Psi parties, ranging from the Jacqueminot Rose Ball to the Hell's Angels party and the Yellow Submarine party, are famous for their packed houses and top quality bands. Phi Psi emphasizes athletics too, having several members in freshman and varsity sports. Each year sees one or more intramural trophies added to the already large collection.

The men of Mississippi Alpha are proud of their heritage at Ole Miss and over the nation, and continue every year to play a vital part in campus life.

Phi Kappa Theta exhibits banner of adopted homeland.

Theta Kappa Phi and Phi Kappa united in April of 1959 to become a new national Catholic fraternity. In May of 1959 the Ole Miss chapter proudly assumed the name of Mississippi Chi of Phi Kappa Theta.

Phi Kappa Theta's traditions, principles, purposes and practices instill a lively enthusiasm into its members. This spirit is shown in every PKT sponsored affair that relates to school and fraternity activities. Dixie Week, Homecoming, and the Christmas season are all commemorated in the tradition of Ole Miss. The highlight of the Phi Kappa Theta social season is the annual Red and Gold formal.

Mississippi Chi strives for unity within the small but growing framework of its chapter. Every member holds to the ideal and meaning of true brotherhood. Phi Kappa Theta endeavores to meet the needs of the individual in providing a close tie with companionship.

PKT's official flower is the red rose and the colors are cardinal purple, white, and gold. The members try to manifest a public spirit and lively interest in all that concerns the life and welfare of the school.

So what, I'm not proud.

The Gamma Iota Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was founded on the Ole Miss campus in 1927 and since that time has grown into one of the most outstanding fraternities on campus. Essentially a southern fraternity, being founded at the University of Virginia, Pi Kappa Alpha is now one of the five largest fraternities in the United States.

Doug Cunningham and Bobby Wade represented the Pikes on the football field while Mack Lowery cheered the rebels to eight victories and a Blue Bonnet Bowl bid. Because of his high scholastic record, Newton Gill was elevated to ODK. Phi Eta Sigma claims Larry Cunningham, Al Corban, and Steve Cockerham. Outstanding members in their respective ROTC fields are Larry Cunningham, Jerry Marlar, Newton Gill, and Lester Smith. David Dean was elected a Freshman Cheerleader by his fellow classmates.

The Roman Ball, Playboy Party, Bohemian Brawl, and Dream Girl Formal are highlights of the social season. A party for the underpriviledged children of Lafayette County stimulate the Christmas spirit of the Pikes.

SAE's succumb to chapter room tube.

Claiming the honor and distinction of being the first Southern fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon traces its origins back to the University of Alabama, where on March 9, 1856, it was founded by a group of eight close confederates. SAE is noted for its fostering of the Interfraternity Council, as is shown by their establishment of the first national leadership headquarters building, Levere Memorial Temple at Evanston, Illinois.

Gamma Chapter was established at Ole Miss in 1866 by L. Q. C. Lamar, one of the greatest Southern statesmen. In their endeavors to live up to Lamar's standards, local SAE's try hard in scholarship and in extracurricular activities. SAE's are found in almost every phase of campus life, and also are outstanding when as alumni they enter the business or professional world.

Their red brick chapter house, whose focal point is a long, white-columned veranda, is the scene of numerous parties, such as the Spring Formal, date suppers, a Shipwreck Party, and the annual convict party. SAE's participate eagerly in these forms of entertainment, for a good social life is important to them.

Sigma Chi's await next lunch break.

Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was the birthplace of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. Sigma Chi was the third fraternity to be founded at Miami during June, 1855, and was completed at the famous "Miami Triad." The Constantine Chapter of Sigma Chi was formed during the late part of the Civil War to perpetuate the fraternity in the South. This chapter has served as a model for chapters formed all over the world in times of war by many fraternities.

Eta Chapter, one of Sigma Chi's greatest, was established at the University in 1857, and since that time has consistently produced its share of leaders in every phase of campus life. Eta Chapter has constantly been one of the top three fraternities in campus scholarship and its members are active in many honorary organizations.

On the national scene are Sigma Chis such as Milton Caniff, award-winning creator of Steve Canyon; astronaut Walter Schirra, who piloted his Sigma Seven, named for the fraternity; and Republican Barry Goldwater from Arizona.

From their founding at Virginia Military Institute on January 1, 1869, Sigma Nu has grown to one of the largest fraternities in the United States and Canada. Epsilon Xi Chapter was formed on this campus in 1927.

The most versatile home of the men of Sigma Nu can boast the only heated in-door swimming pool belonging to a fraternity. It also has accommodations for forty men, a comfortable lounge, dining room, and chapter room.

The versatility of the Sigma Nus is evident from their participation in all phases of campus activity. They boost members of ODK, Carrier Scholars, and several Senators.

In social events, the Sigma Nus entertain guests with a wide variety of parties. Their annual White Star Ball and Roaring Twenties Party are main events of the year.

The Sigma Nus stress varied activities adapted to each individual member. Epsilon Xi Chapter seeks to reach its goals by inspiring each brother to live by their creed, "To believe in the life of love; to walk in the way of honor; to serve in the light of truth."

They're waiting to come alive!

Twelve divinity students founded Sigma Phi Epsilon on November 1, 1901, at Richmond College, in Richmond, Virginia. These students met weekly to share each other's company and from this brotherhood grew Sigma Phi Epsilon—the Fraternity with the Heart.

The Golden Heart of Sigma Phi Epsilon celebrated the social season with its annual Cowboy Party, Hawaiian Luau, and Red Shift Party. An additional costume event was the Barnaby Street Ball featuring the latest in Mod apparel. The Queen of Hearts Ball was the highlight of the season with a formal dinner and dance for members and alumni and the crowning of the Sweetheart.

The house dining room decorated with the fraternity colors of purple and red was the scene of a candlelight dinner commemorating Founders Day on November 1. A scholarship supper recognized new members inducted into the Skull and Bones Society, an organization for Sig Eps who have achieved scholastic excellence. At this time the Clifford B. Scott Memorial Scholarship Key was awarded to the brother with the highest average for the year.

A Sigma Pi crams for finals.

Four students at Vincennes University, Indiana, founded Sigma Pi Fraternity on February 26, 1897. Athletic excellence as well as scholastic achievement are among the main goals of Sigma Pi. Beta Mu Chapter is a small, but well-knit organization, and every member, active or pledge, has an opportunity to participate actively in chapter functions. The main goal of every member, aside from making his grades, is to capture the intramural sports championship.

Some of Sigma Pi's most outstanding achievements this year include: the most successful formal rush in the history of its chapter at Ole Miss, the election of pledge Bobby Board as President of the Junior Inter-Fraternity Council, a very successful Homecoming party, and a good intramural football team.

The objectives of Sigma Pi are to establish a brotherhood of, and for, college men; to promote scholarship; to advance truth and justice; to diffuse culture; and to encourage chivalry among men.

The Junior Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of two pledges from each fraternity. These representatives are selected by their individual pledge classes and serve for the entire year. The council is also composed of two representatives from the Senior Inter-Fraternity Council who are elected to serve as advisors of Junior IFC for organizational purposes.

The purpose of the Junior Interfraternity Council is to instill in its membership the principles of the fraternity system. In doing this, the representatives may give to their individual fraternities an incentive to improve where manhood may flourish. The council also acts as a service organization, carrying out projects designed by the Senior Interfraternity Council.

The Junior Panhellenic program was re-established at the University of Mississippi this past year, under the supervision of the Senior Panhellenic Council.

The purpose of Junior Panhellenic is to organize the sorority pledge classes into a more unified working body, while each still maintains its own individuality. Through this program the pledges were able to learn about the organization and workings of the Panhellenic system and to voice their suggestions for its improvement.
